- Namisindwa produced no district financial document on file.
- Nothing at either school was counted on the day.

5. Supplied against found

Both schools have hand-filled registers as the found side. Nothing was counted at either.

6. Obsolete, unserviceable or for disposal

Broken chairs and stools are recorded at both schools; Namboko also records stolen ICT items. Nothing was listed for disposal.

7. Outstanding queries

- Namisindwa produced no district financial document on file, so neither school can be checked against a holding kept at the district.
- No call at the district offices is recorded for Namisindwa.
- The programme list names Mukuto Seed School, the hand-filled register writes MUKOTO SEED SECONDARY SCHOOL and a signboard at the site reads BWAYO SEED SECONDARY SCHOOL PHASE 1.
- Mukuto Seed School's discussion guide says the school is still under construction and in the contractor's hands.
- Namboko's discussion guide says the school is still under defect liability and the contractor must repair or replace.
- Neither school is fenced and both guides call for fencing to protect the compound and the land.
- Nothing at Mukuto Seed School or Namboko was counted on 1 September.
- Neither hand-filled register came with its cover or verifier block photographed.
- Mukuto's guide notes land encroachment by neighbours on the school plot.

- Namboko's register records stolen monitors and CPUs and a server processor not seen on site.
- Mukuto's register strikes through a five-thousand-litre water tank as not complete; Namboko's register marks its water tanks not seen on the walk-through.
- No debrief was given to Namisindwa on what the two schools showed.
